U.S. Artillery Shells North Vietnam

A U.S. MARINE grips a dead Viet Cong by the hair as he drags the body from a Communist river hideout 12 miles southeast of Da Nang during Operation Stone this week. Marine suba divers were used to locate Viet Cong tunnel entrances during the river search. (UPI Telephoto)

SAIGON (AP) — U.S. headquarters announced today that American forces have begun shelling North Vietnam with long-range artillery based in South Vietnam for the first time in the war.

An American military spokesman said U.S. artillerymen fired my troops was light, more than five minutes when the Communists are attempting to escape North Vietnam took place Wednesday, a U.S. spokesman said.

The announcement came as about 45,000 American troops pushed behind tanks through jungles of the Communists' war Zone C, 70 miles northwest of Saigon, in the biggest offensive of the war. But they failed to find Communist units of any size.

U.S. troops reported killing 19 Viet Cong so far in the new Operation Junction City, and the Communists responded with at least two mortar shellings of American positions. U.S. headquarters said American casualties were light so far.

Though contact with the enemy was light, although he did not rule last five months.

"Not that I know of."

The spokesman said the U.S. guns fired from an "artillery plateau" called Camp Carlson, a Marine base about 11 miles south of the demarcation line running through the center of the demilitarized zone. This meant that the 175mm guns could fire about eight miles into North Vietnam at the most.

headquarters said. The Communists broke contact after five minutes when American troops fired counterbarriers.

The second Communist shelling came early today when a rear-area U.S. supply unit eight miles northeast of Tay Ninh City received 20 rounds. Light U.S. casualties were reported in both barrages.

The American drive so far has destroyed 144 enemy bunkers and three tunnels and has seized 39 tons of rice, a spokesman said. In the drive the Americans hope to catch the Viet Cong's political leadership, believed to have its headquarters in the area, as well as root out hard-core military units that have ranged the area for 20 years.

Elsewhere in South Vietnam, U.S. forces reported only minor skirmishes but South Vietnamese and South Korean troops reported several brisk engagements.

Elections Peril India's Ruling Unit

Premier's Facing Crisis That Might Threaten Regime

NEW DELHI, India (AP)—Mounting returns in India's elections imperiled the ruling Congress party's majority in Parliament today and confronted Prime Minister Indira Gandhi with a crisis that could bring down her government.

With 180 of Parliament's 520 seats decided, the Congress party had won 92, only four more than the combined opposition. The Hindu Communal Jan Sangh had 22, the right-wing Swatantra 14, the pro-Peking Communists 10, the Socialists 10, the pro-Moscow Communists 4 and independents and others 28.

In balloting for 3,560 assembly seats in 17 Indian states, Congress party candidates were winning only slightly more than 50 per cent.

As the party which had ruled since India won independence 20 years ago suffered setback after setback, Mrs. Gandhi's chances of continuing as prime minister were in doubt.

The Congress party had lost control of the local legislatures in two of India's 17 states: Kerala, where a powerful Communist-leftist combine was victorious, and in Madras, where the Tamil Dravidian Munnetra Kazhagam won a majority.

The Congress party retained the largest number of seats but lost its majority in three other states—Punjab, Rajasthan and West Bengal. There it must form coalitions to continue to govern.

Investigation Continues In 'Mix-Up' Burial Case

Investigation continued today in a New Jersey mixup of identities which led to the burial of a murdered retired minister — whose estranged wife resides at Salem — under the name of a Lancaster (Pa.) drifter.

Mrs. Helen Myers of Salem, widow of the Rev. Skillman E. Myers, viewed the exhumed remains of the dead man Thursday at Trenton, N.J., and confirmed it was her husband.

Elmore said he had planned to certify the final regulations with the secretary of state this week, but today it appeared this would have to be put off probably until next week.

Licenses under the private club liquor act cannot be awarded until after the rules and regulations have been filed with the secretary of state for 30 days.

Thus, it appeared the first licenses now will probably not appear until mid-April.

Elmore said earlier he hoped to begin issuing licenses by late March.

Elmore said he could proceed with the regulations and put them in final form without the advisory board first seeing them but he said he would not want to do that.

Armageddon In Rice Paddies

The Russians are showing a singular lack of interest in any treaty to head off a costly race to establish effective anti-missile missile systems.

Why is this so?

Either the Russians have already developed such a system, or they would like to make us believe they have, so we will spend billions to achieve a stand-off.

We cannot know for sure just what the Soviet Union is up to. There is evidence supported by military intelligence that some sort of defense system against nuclear attack has already been erected around Moscow.

Now comes the head of Soviet civil defense to contradict a Russian general's warning that any missiles fired at the Soviet Union will not reach their targets. Not so, says the civil defense chief. Some will get through, he says. The missile shield cannot do the complete job — at least yet.

THE ISSUE of an anti-missile missile system is developing into one of the major points of contention in the U.S. defense establishment.

Secretary of Defense Robert McNamara sees no need for it. All we have to do, he says, is to develop more effective offensive weapons to penetrate whatever defensive system the Russians have developed.

He apparently does not have the support of the nation's top military leaders. There are growing rumblings of disagreement within the Pentagon.

Most pointed statement on the controversy has come from Gen. Nathan F. Twining, a former chairman of the U.S. Joint Chiefs of Staff.

While he alludes only incidentally to our unwillingness to perfect a missile defense system, he does warn the U.S. is following "a blueprint for national suicide" by failing to maintain clear military superiority over the Soviet Union.

Who Can Tame A Wildcat?

If Mansfield UAW workers had not gone back to work when ordered by their No. 1 leader, Walter P. Reuther, the fat would have been in the fire.

A question that went begging for an answer in the earlier days of mass unionism is back again.

Who can guarantee a labor contract if rank-and-file unionists disregard it? The Mansfield strike against General Motors was in violation of a contract.

It took a long time for some of the new vertical unions to understand why a disregarded contract amounted to a violation of good faith—and that without good faith no contract is worth the paper it is written on.

Observers of labor unionism in its current phase, at the outset of a year in which many major industries will be negotiating new contracts, have been warning that central authority over the locals of some sprawling international unions is so tenuous it is no more than nominal.

Collectivization of bargaining power that put industrial unionism into a commanding position has begun to turn back upon itself and create resentment among rank-and-file unionists.

If UAW President Reuther had been unable to demonstrate ability to enforce compliance with a contract made in good faith, his union's presidential nomination.

As usual, the liking for Romney seems more rooted in his personality than any ideas he had to offer. On Vietnam, in particular, his ideas were, and still are, practically zero.

Last July at the governors' conference in Los Angeles he was asked to express himself on Vietnam and then proceeded to ramble, weave and stumble until the result was undecipherable.

At THAT TIME he wound up by saying "there are no simple answers" and admitting "I have failed to take a clear-cut position one way or the other . . . ah, I just . . . the President hasn't, either. If he hasn't, I don't see why a governor should."

After that it was reported Romney and his advisers thought that before he started talking again in the field of foreign affairs, especially Vietnam, he ought to bone up on the problems. He remained quiet on them a long time.

But he started again on this trip, attacking President Johnson's handling of the war as "clumsy, ill-timed and poorly coordinated." He didn't say how, but he did say it was a mistake to get involved in a land war in Asia.

Then he added "But, since we're still there, we have to see it through." He did not criticize Johnson for resuming the bombing of North Vietnam but later he accused the Johnson administration of "expediency" in handling the war.

The day after that he ducked a question which tried to pin him down. He was asked how the administration was being politically expedient in Vietnam and would he give an example.

He said "No, I will not." Asked why he would not, he replied "Because I choose not to." Then he was asked, "Do you mean you are making a charge without substantiating it?" Romney answered "At this point, yes."

Few Contests Seen

Most Incumbents Slate Midland Area Vote Bids

With the deadline on candidate filings in the May 16 primary election less than two weeks away, few contests loom on the Midland area's Democrat and Republican ballots.

Most incumbent Councilmen and school directors indicate they plan to seek renomination in the primary.

In Midland, the incumbents have been endorsed by the Democrat committee.

Clem Newitz of Ohio Ave., a member of the Democrat Volunteers group, has announced he will seek a Council nomination.

Midland's Republicans, as yet without a chairman, have given no indication of a slate for the primary.

Deadline for filing petitions is March 7.

Rudolph Presutti, chairman of the regular Democrat Committee, said the committee Monday night endorsed incumbent borough and Beaver County officials "because they are veteran party members who have had broad public service experience."

The committee endorsed Mayor Eli Corak for another term as commissioner and also backed District Atty. Robert Masters in his bid for Beaver County judge.

Presutti said, we feel that the non-incumbents on the slate are well qualified to join the present team of able elected officials. These include Atty. Clarence Neish, candidate for district attorney, who has been elected to two consecutive terms as Mayor of Aliquippa; Paul Doughty, candidate for treasurer, who has been County Welfare Director for five years and chief Clerk, prior to that, as well as an elected Commissioner of Hopewell Township; Mayor James G. Camp of Rochester, candidate for controller, who also has served on borough council as finance chairman; and Dr. Ralph L. Riviere of New Brighton, whose experience as a physician well qualifies him to be coroner.

"Our committee also feels that commissioner James E. Ross and Eli G. Corak should be re-elected, along with Sheriff John W. Hineman; Prothonotary Anthony J. Kubik; Clerk of Courts, Kathleen W. Evans; Register of Wills John L. Neely; and treasurer Floree J. Acquino, who is running for Recorder of Deeds."

The Midland Democratic Committee also pledges all-out support for district attorney, Robert Masters, a native son, who is seeking a judgeship of the Common Pleas Court. We agree that his election will help bring a balance to the courts and know that he will be a dynamic and dignified candidate."

The committee also endorsed incumbent Midland Borough Councilman Raymond Presutti, Joseph D'Alesio and Joseph Hibbard; incumbent school board directors Edward Cilli, James H. Morrison and James Cerasi; constable Carmen Cannanzi and Frank D'Eramo for Borough Auditor.

Presutti said a meeting will be called within a few weeks to map detailed plans for the closing phase of the campaign.

Industry

Industry's three Republican Councilmen whose terms expire plan to seek renomination.

They include Ross Strohm of Ohioview - Industry Rd., Clyde Piquet of Midland - Beaver Rd. and James Muns of Barclay Hill Rd.

James Shevnaugh of Overlook Dr., Democrat and the fourth Councilman whose term expires, has not yet indicated his plans.

Charles Karolewski of Industry-Fairview Rd., Republican, has indicated he will seek nomination for a Council post. He is a Crucible Steel Co. foreman.

Mark Haram of Ohio Ave., auditor and Republican, is uncertain whether he will seek re-election.

Mrs. Rose Carroll of Ohioview, incumbent Democrat assessor, plans to seek renomination.

Three members of the Western Beaver School Board whose terms expire this year are Charles Camp of Smiths Ferry R. D. 1, James McClaskey of Ohio-

Catholic Service Bureau Chooses Rupp For Board

LISBON — The Catholic Service Bureau of Columbiana County met Thursday night at St. George Parish Hall here and elected Dallas B. Rupp of West Point to the board. He is a member of St. Agatha Mission at West Point, which has not been represented on the board.

James J. Kennedy of Leetonia was installed as president, succeeding James J. McGowan of East Liverpool. Also installed were Robert Hocking of East Liverpool, vice president; Mrs. Louis Tobin of East Liverpool, secretary, and Thomas Reese of Leetonia, treasurer.

Kennedy named three committee chairmen — Reese, finances; Frank Siriani of Wellsville, nominating, and Mrs. Grace Peters of Wellsville, personnel.

Miss Mary Catherine Donahue, executive secretary, reported the bureau had 51 children under its care in January and handled 35 family and children's cases.

The next meeting will be March 30, one week later than usual because of Holy Week.

Charges To Face Wife In Damage To Auto Of Mate

An East End woman is scheduled to appear before Municipal Judge Samuel M. Chertoff Monday morning on a charge she damaged her estranged husband's car by hurling a stone through a window.

JAMES A. BURGESS of R.D. 2 signed an affidavit Thursday charging Mrs. Sherry Lynn Burgess of 1090 High St. with malicious destruction of property. She posted a $57.50 appearance bond.

The affidavit alleges she "did maliciously throw a stone through a window of an auto belonging to James A. Burgess."

Burgess reported the alleged damage to his auto to police Wednesday afternoon. He said his wife climbed into the car while it was parked on Monaca St. and hurled the contents of the glove compartment to the ground. She pounded on the hood of the auto with a stone and then hurled a rock that cracked the windshield as he drove away, Burgess told police.

Charges Filed In Traffic Case

Charges have been filed against an Empire woman who Wellsville police say backed out of the post office parking lot at 11th St. into a car owned by Alvin A. Wright, 60, of Calcutta R.D. 2 at 7:30 Thursday night.

Armstrong attempted to pass the other car, not seeing an approaching auto operated by Richard Evans, 20, of Hill Rd., near Hookstown.

Officers said Armstrong attempted to squeeze in between the two autos, but collided with both, causing estimated damage of $1,200 to the three vehicles.

Probation, Fines Are Set By Judge

LISBON — Two 17-year-old Columbiana girls who returned home intoxicated from a double date last weekend were placed on probation to their parents for one year Thursday in Juvenile Court.

Judge Louis Tobin fined their parents for contributing to their delinquency.

Timothy Sheen, 19, of Salem, charged with buying beer and furnishing it to the girls, was fined $100, while William Wagner, 18, also of Salem, charged with allowing the girls to drink in his presence, was fined $50.

The court suspended their driving privileges for two weeks and ordered them not to associate with girls under 18 outside their own families.

The girls were placed on a 7 p.m. curfew for the next 30 days, then a 9 p.m. curfew for the rest of the school year.

FALLACY:

Engraving, once popular, is now a lost art.

FACT:

It is still a widely-accepted custom to have many jewelry gifts engraved to add a personal warmth to the gift. It is only as "old-fashioned" as honest sentiment. Wedding rings, anniversary and other gifts are often engraved with an expression of the donor's sentiment.

CONCLUSION:

You can be sure your thoughtful gift will express your sentiments beautifully if it is chosen from our wide selection. For the gift that says more, see

WRONG PILL

Q. I accidentally took two oral contraceptive pills, mistaking them for headache pills. This might not trouble my wife — but what about me? Will this cause permanent damage?

A. Just be thankful the pills were not something more deadly. The taking of two contraceptive pills by a man could have no more than a fleeting effect. No permanent damage could result.

FATTY FOODS

Q. I have an attack of indigestion every time I eat fatty foods. Why should the slightest bit of fat cause such severe upsets?

A. The fact that many people seem intolerant to food fried or baked in fat prompted two Australian doctors to perform an experiment to learn as much as possible about this problem. 'Positive Living' Needed

Joy in everyday living makes food is often an attempt to make up for something missing in your life.

Recognize, too, that a feeling of deprivation is a subtle form of self-pity. In this frame of mind you can't see anything but the gloomy side, so you think "what's the use!"

You look upon a slimming pattern as punishment...as something being taken away from you. With that viewpoint, you are not likely to win. Actually the protective pattern of eating is a certain way out of your weight worries. A new viewpoint, coupled with a goal, could work wonders.

THE REWARDS of honest fact facing can be tremendous. With insight you can think in terms of what you want...not in terms of deprivation. Think in terms of new goals. In essence, do not aim just to weigh less, but to make a rich, full, wonderful life.

When you equate food, excess food, with the good life, you then tend to center your life around food. This can be joyless.

Turn your energies toward positive living. A surprisingly effective way to do this is to picture in your mind's eye what you want to have brought into reality.

Exercise of your imagination...your imaging faculty...is a subtle way to direct your will. Get enthusiastic about the plan. Expect to get more fun out of

Rabbi Reviews Aspects Of Prejudice At Kiwanis

Some of the causes and some of the possible cures of prejudice were discussed by Rabbis Sidney Hoffman during a Brotherhood Week talk before the Kiwanis Club Thursday.

Rabbi Hoffman of the Beth Shalom congregation likened prejudice to a television set whose picture is faulty but in which a repairman cannot find any defects.

"Is the poor picture irrational, or is it the failure of the repairman to detect the causes?" the rabbi asked.

A major cause "or a defect of the big picture tube" stems from the teachings in society or in religious groups, he stated.

FOR EXAMPLE, some religions teach that salvation can be obtained only through their own denomination, which causes a negative attitude toward the "out" groups.

Also, interpretation of values can result in bias. "People can be taught to love thy neighbor—if thy neighbor is of one's own denomination and meets certain requirements."

Another problem—"one of the smaller TV tubes"—is the stereotyping of people, generalizing that a race or religion has certain characteristics which are reflected in all members, and those who don't have these characteristics are exceptions.

How can some of these "tubes" be fixed?

Rabbi Hoffman said one way would be not to eliminate differences between people, but to "orchestrate" them.

He referred to the blending and effectiveness of stringed and percussion instruments and brass horns in music despite their basic differences of sound, construction and playing technique.

The rabbi said a lot has been done on behalf of brotherhood in recent years through such developments as the Vatican Ecumenical Council, the Protestant

Chester Area Sets Up Drive For Scholars

Mrs. Eugene Seeley, trustee for the Chester area of the Citizens Scholarship Foundation in the Oak Glen School District, has announced Chester chairmen for the Dollars for Scholars drive which will begin March 5.

"The fear of the unknown" is another factor in causing prejudice. But through such programs as JUMP in East Liverpool, people of different racial, religious and ethnic groups get together and learn more about each other, reducing the unknown factor.

Mrs. Seeley will serve as house-to-house chairman, and will be assisted by the following area chairmen:

Mrs. Vernon C. Whittington, Mrs. Richard Rossy, Mrs. Charles Mansfield, Mrs. Donald Smith and Mrs. Rollie Brown.

Three of the area chairmen, Mrs. Whittington, Mrs. Rossy and Mrs. Hutton have children who received scholarships from Dollars for Scholars in 1966.

Sally Leona Rossy received the Alvin L. Arner Memorial Scholarship for the second year in a row to attend West Virginia University, where she is a sophomore majoring in psychology. Cynthia Rae Whittington received the Chester Junior Woman's Club Scholarship to attend the Wheeling Hospital School of Nursing, as a freshman. Karen in Sun Hutton received the Chester Woman's Club Award for the second successive year to attend West Virginia University, where she is a sophomore majoring in English.

In 1966, Oak Glen had 13 applicants for aid from the CSF. Twelve students from the area received assistance in the total amount of $2,800.

He was introduced by James McGowan.

Other chairmen announced by Mrs. Seeley for the Chester area include Mrs. Alvin Arner Jr., vice chairman.

J. Paul Finley will serve as industrial chairman, James A. Jordan will direct the professional solicitation and retail stores will be solicited by Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Arner Jr.

In addition to her other duties, Mrs. Seeley, who is in her second year as trustee for the Chester area, will serve as clubs and organizations chairman.

Newell District Heart Campaign Set For Sunday

The Heart Fund campaign will be conducted in Newell and outlying areas Sunday afternoon beginning at 1. It has been announced by Lloyd Nalley Jr., chairman.

Covered in the house-to-house canvass will be Newell proper, Newell Heights, Oliverville, Joe Town, Snow Hill and Congo.

Letters of solicitation have been sent to business establishments and service clubs, Nalley said.

Mental Health Talk Presented

The Tri-State Valley Industrial Nurses Association met Tuesday at the Holiday Inn, Steubenville, with 28 members and one guest present.

Mrs. John Sullivan of the Brooke and Hancock County Mental Health Association discussed "Mental Health."

Mrs. Carmel Senatore, industrial nurse for the Titanium Metal Corp. at Toronto and president of the association, presided during a short business meeting.

The next meeting will be March 21 at the Inn Town Motel in East Liverpool.

Ann Landers

ANSWERS YOUR PROBLEMS

Dear Ann Landers: The letter written by "Janet," the teenager who hated her alcoholic father, touched me deeply.

I grew up in a home where father was seldom sober. I suffered many indignities because of his drunkenness.

I would like to tell Janet this: Your father is desperately ill, not just physically but mentally. The anguish he has caused you is nothing compared to the torment HE endures.

You wouldn't hate your father if he were dying of cancer, would you? In a way, alcoholism can be worse than cancer because so often people refuse to recognize that an alcoholic is ill. They keep saying, "He could straighten up if he wanted to" and, "All it takes is will power."

You can help your father if you have the courage and the desire to do so. Tell your mother, your doctor, your minister, anyone who might help, that your father needs hospitalization. It won't be easy.

I remember my mother's refusal to admit that Father was mentally ill. He had to try suicide before she was persuaded.

And please don't waste any more time or energy hating your father. He hates himself enough for both of you. Try love and understanding. And above all, get him the help he needs.—FORMER ALATEEN.

Dear Former: Your signature came as no surprise. I urge all teen-agers who must live with an alcoholic parent to contact this superb organization which is a branch of Alcoholics Anonymous. The national headquarters is: Alcoholic Foundation, Box 459, Grand Central Station, New York, N.Y. 10017.

Telephone Belle

Dear Ann: You have printed several letters about telephone courtesy over the years and I hope you will print one more.

I'm a business woman who uses the telephone a great deal. I don't mind it when a secretary tries to be supercilious but I hate conversations that go like this:

Secretary answers phone: "Mr. Brown's office."

Me: "May I speak to Mr. Brown, please?"

Dear Up: If Mr. Brown is a busy executive he doesn't have time for "surprises." Do you know what I mean?

A cardinal rule of telephone courtesy is that the person who places the call should identify himself at once. To expect a busy person to return a blind phone call is not only presumptuous but arrogant.

Secretary answers phone: "Mr. Brown's office."

Me: "May I speak to Mr. Brown, please?"

Sec.: "Mr. Brown is out at the moment. If you will leave your name and number I will have Mr. Brown return your call."

Me: "Never mind. I'll call again later."

Sec.: "May I ask who is calling, please?"

Now this last sentence is what burns me up. If I had wanted to identify myself I would have done so when the secretary asked me to leave my name and number. Perhaps I wanted to speak to Mr. Brown about a trivial matter and I didn't want him to wrack his brain wondering why I was calling. Or maybe I just wanted to surprise him. Do you understand what I mean? — DANDER UP.

The War On Heart Attacks

Dr. Paul Dudley White, world-famed cardiologist, is the author of the following article, the fourth in a series of five on reducing the risk of heart attack. Dr. White was a founder of the American Heart Association from 1941-42 and remains active in its programs. He is emeritus clinical professor of medicine at Harvard Medical School. The articles were prepared for the Newspaper Enterprise Association.

DR. PAUL DUDLEY WHITE

In the strict sense of the term, a heart attack is an event for which the stage has been set by a long-term disease which hardens, roughens and narrows the coronary arteries.

Many factors contribute to this process, among them physical inactivity.

Where masses of people are concerned, we have excellent documentation that those in active occupations suffer fewer heart attacks than those in sedentary occupations. Desk-bound postal clerks, for example, are hit more often than mailmen who trudge many miles each day.

Potters, Big Red To Clash In Sectional Tourney Finals

Tigers Slowdown Tactics Fail In 32-23 Finish

By BOB DUFFY
Review Sports Editor

BIG RED eked out a 67-65 victory over top-seeded Toronto on a last-second shot by Art O'Mery, Steubenville's hero for the second straight tournament finals again for the second straight year, but were a little

Coach Clinton McConnell, in talking of Big Red, said, "I feel Wellsburg has played two good games in the tournament. In fact, I feel they are their best back-to-back games of the season."

East Liverpool did not get

"They have improved rapidly over the last half of the season and we will have to be at our best to win Saturday night," he added.

MCCONNELL didn't have much to say about the stalling attempts of Wellsburg, other than pointing out it was one of those things you have to put up with on occasions.

Tiger coach Jack McDevitt pointed out after the contest that his team couldn't hope to run with the Potters because "they were too big."

McDevitt said he hoped to keep the game close and perhaps cause the Potters to panic and commit fouls.

The Potters hold a 64-55 decision over Big Red in a game played at East Liverpool.

THE TIGERS managed to carry out their game plan well and didn't commit many turnovers with their slowed-down tactics. But for the spectators, the game was anything but interesting.

over anxious in efforts to get the basketball and played a hustling defensive game.

The victory actually was an easy one for the Potters, who didn't have to exert too much energy.

East Liverpool played a deliberate game and waited for the good shots when it had the ball.

THE GAME saw both teams only taking a total of 39 shots. The Potters tried 24 and made 14, while the Tigers shot only 14, making seven. East Liverpool shot 56 per cent and Wellsburg 50 per cent.

East Liverpool led 6-2 at the end of the first quarter and 14-7 at halftime.

No one scored in the third quarter as Wellsburg held the ball for seven minutes and 49 seconds, obtaining possession on a bad pass by the Potters at the opening of the quarter.

BOB MOREHEAD, Wellsburg's leading scorer, took the only shot for the Tigers in the third period, but missed with eight seconds to go. The Potters got the ball and Vern Smith shot and missed for the only two shots taken during the eight minutes.

East Liverpool took its 14-7 lead into the fourth quarter, but Morehead soon cut the margin to five points with a field goal.

BASKETS by Smith and Mitchell Jones put the Potters on top 18-9.

With 5:22 remaining in the game, Morehead scored two foul shots, but Smith countered with a basket. The clock showed 3:32 when Hood hit his first of two quick baskets. His second goal at 3:11 pulled Wellsburg within five points, 22-17.

WITH the Tigers still very much in the game, Christian and Morehead exchanged baskets and the score read 24-19 with 2:36 to go.

At the 2:13 mark, Todd Weekley complained on a foul call and was tagged with a technical after fouling Vern Smith, who made one of two free throws. The Potters then went from there to score the next six points, including a goal by McVay and two by Smith, building the lead to 31-19 with time running out.

Smith led the Potters into the finals with 13 points hitting 6 of 10 shots, while McVay, who returned to the lineup after missing Tuesday's tournament start, added seven points. Bruce Christian and Jones chipped in with six and five, respectively.

Morehead carried Wellsburg's load again, finishing with 11 points in his final high school game. He averaged almost 20 points per game for the Tigers this past season.

Last night's victory was East Liverpool's tenth in a row and lifted the Potters record to 15-5.

Ryun Breaks Indoor Mark At Half Mile

LAWRENCE, Kan. (AP) — Jim Ryun of Kansas set a new indoor world record of 1:48.3 in the half-mile Thursday night.

Maybe that ought to be a prescribed pre-meet meal for middle distance runners.

The 19-year-old Jayhawk sophomore admitted he was pointing for the race, the only one he ran in a dual meet with Oklahoma State.

"I cut down in my training a little this week," Ryun said. "This was the last meet for a long time that I'll have only one race. Next week I'll be working hard right up to the Big Eight meet."

Ryun, the world record holder in the mile at 3:51.3, has a pending world mark of 1:44.9 in the outdoor half-mile. All indoor marks are unofficial because of widely varying conditions.

Basketball is conceded to be the one major sport that is exclusively all-American in origin.

Late Goal Gives Big Red Victory

At-Large Teams Named

Pairings Are Set For NCAA Firing

By TED MEIER
Associated Press Sports Writer

Texas Western, the forgotten team in college basketball, is back to defend its national championship in the NCAA post-season tournament and the Miners from El Paso aren't conceding anything to any team.

"The boys have been pointing for this all year," Don Haskins, the Miners' coach, said today after the NCAA had filled its 23-team field for the championship tourney opening March 11.

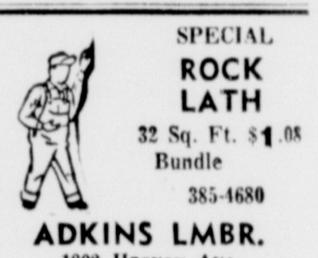

Starting one hour after the NCAA issued its at-large invitations Thursday, the selection committee of the National Invitation Tournament, the other major postseason tourney, landed seven teams. The 14-team NIT opens March 9 in New York.

Named to the NCAA, along with Texas Western, were Boston College, St. John's of New York, Virginia Tech, Houston, Dayton, Seattle, New Mexico State and the champion of the Ivy League, either Princeton or Cornell.

Syracuse, Providence and Utah State, three of the country's top independents, were tapped for the NIT along with Marquette, Memphis State, Rutgers and St. Peter's of New Jersey.

Louisville, Western Kentucky and Connecticut qualified automatically.

Thom McAn makes dress shoes that stay dressed.

(Corfam is the reason.)

If you let it, our Corfam dress shoe will collect dust. But it won't lose its shine. Just wipe it with a dry cloth. And you're all set.

The secret is Corfam. It keeps its shine (even without polish), sheds water, and is so flexible that it needs no breaking-in.

Thom McAn Corfam dress shoes have flexible leather soles and soft, plump linings. So you feel comfortable as well as well-dressed.

And the quality is Bootmaster. You get the detail and styling you expect in shoes with much higher price tags. The shoe shown above is just $18.99.

(Maybe that's why these shoes never stay in the store window long enough to get dusty.)

Junior Editors Quiz on WASHINGTON, D.C.

QUESTION: Why was the District of Columbia located where it is?

ANSWER: The District of Columbia is a federal district, that is, a tract of land set apart from the rest of the country, a place which is the seat of the national government. Because it belongs to the whole nation, it is not a part of any state, and its affairs are under the control of Congress alone.

The need for such a federal area with a city built upon it was felt by the Continental Congress in 1783, but it was difficult to choose a site because both the northern and southern group of states wanted it located in their areas. In 1790, Alexander Hamilton suggested locating such a city on the Potomac River, because it lay between the North and the South. George Washington himself chose the exact location, and a French engineer, Major L'Enfant, drew up plans for a magnificent city. It was named Washington and occupied the same area as does the District of Columbia. Americans are intensely proud of their wonderful capital city, which is a symbol of liberty for all alike, whether of north, south east or west.

Strip Mine Control, Gross Margins TaxTwo Controversial Bills
Faced By W. Va. Senate

CHARLESTON — Two of the West Virginia legislature's most controversial measures were on the Senate calendar today—the strengthened strip mine control bill was up for a vote and a modified gross margins tax measure—the "do-or-die" test bill for the Papek tax reform package—was at first reading.

The strip mine bill, to give the Natural Resources director sweeping new powers over surface mining operations, sailed easily through amendment stage Thursday with only two changes and no attempt to weaken its stringent language.

The amendments primarily were to correct oversights in drafting. One oversight would have abolished all sand and rock dredging and quarries in the state, but this was cleared up on an amendment by Minority Leader John E. Carrigan, R-Marshall.

The Senate Finance Committee reported out the gross margins tax bill Thursday with several amendments to soften its impact on industry taxes. West Virginia manufacturers have come out solidly against the measure.

The package of bills now is designed to produce $23 million in new revenue in the next fiscal year, said Finance Chairman Hans McCourt, D-Webster.

Key changes made in the committee were:

— Lower the gross margins tax rate from 3 per cent to 2.7 per cent.

— Providing a special exemption for industries in which labor costs run 70 per cent or more of the gross margins income. On a sliding scale, exemptions reduce to zero at $200,000 gross margins income and above.

Included in Senate voting today was to be revised air pollution measure to give the state more authority to control air pollution violators. The bill was advanced to voting stage with the right to amend.

Among the bills facing a House of Delegates vote were measures to liberalize the assessment and collection of the consumers sales tax and authorizing the State Road Commission to acquire property under the highway beautification program.

In legislative action Thursday:

—The Senate passed 31-2 and sent to the House a bill requiring county courthouses to remain open 5½ days during the week, unless there is a legal holiday. The courthouse would have to post a notice for three days before it could close on a non-holiday.

—The House passed 99-1 and sent to the Senate a measure to allow West Virginia's participation in an interstate drivers license compact. Out-of-state drivers ticketed in West Virginia would have the ticket recorded in the driver's state. The same would hold for state drivers in other states, with tickets counting as if they were written in West Virginia.

—The House Education Committee reported out a bill to create the West Virginia School Building Authority, one of Gov. Hulett Smith's legislative proposals. The authority would be a distribution agency if the legislature votes state funds to aid local school construction.

—The Senate passed 33-0 a bill requiring an "understandable" explanatory note to appear on the election ballot with proposed constitutional amendments. The measure now goes to the House.

—There would be a graduated scale of allowable exemptions, beginning with a $10,000 exemption, beginning with a $10,000 exemption for business with

CLEVELAND — Heavy demand for telephone service in 1966 resulted in record capital expenditures for additional lines and equipment, new highs in local and long distance calls and the largest number of employees in history, the Ohio Bell Telephone Co.'s annual report showed today.

President Frederick R. Eckley reported net income of $63,200,000 — up 7.4 per cent over 1965 — and a gain of 159,000 telephones, bringing the company's statewide total to 3,441,000.

Total operating revenues were up 8.5 per cent over the previous year, while operating expenses increased 7.8 per cent. Earnings per share increased 10 cents to $2.07.

A record $119,464,000 was spent last year in expanding and improving the Ohio Bell telephone plant in the cities and towns it serves, bringing the five-year total for capital expenditures to more than $512 million.

Ninety-six per cent of subscribers have individual line residence service. Less than one-half of 1 per cent of residential customers are now served on lines of more than two parties.

Senate Okays Ceiling Boost

WASHINGTON (AP) — Senate Democrats overcame solid Republican opposition to raise the temporary national debt ceiling that would allow the government to meet its March bills.

A compromise bill to raise the temporary ceiling $6 billion to $336 billion passed 39 to 31 Thursday.

The measure, hammered out by Senate-House conferees, still faces final action in the House. That's not expected until March 1, the day Secretary of the Treasury Henry H. Fowler says the government will be faced with a shortage of cash to meet its obligations unless the ceiling is raised.

The version originally passed by the House lifted the temporary ceiling but the Senate had previously voted for a permanent increase. GOP senators still wanted to make the $336-billion ceiling permanent, and all 23 present voted against the temporary ceiling.

The conferees, though making the ceiling temporary, agreed that the House Ways and Means Committee will consider setting a new permanent figure when it considers the debt again.

Drive To Draft Rhodes In 1968 Starts Tonight

MIDDLETOWN, Ohio (AP) — A drive to draft Gov. James A. Rhodes for the 1968 Republican presidential nomination gets under way tonight even though the governor has disassociated himself from the idea.

The campaign will start with a public party and news conference at the Congress Inn in nearby Monroe.

Don Gingerich, former campaign manager of U. S. Rep. Donald E. (Buz) Lukens, R-Ohio said the campaign to draft Rhodes will include mailing letters to 100,000 persons, seeking contributions and support. This will be followed with a 300,000-name mailing, he told newsmen.

The governor, who won a smashing re-election victory last fall, has urged other Republicans to ignore Gingerich's activities.
